Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The House passed the Republican leadershipT ANFreauthorizationbill(H.R. 4737) on May 16 by a partisan vote, 229-197. The bill reflects the Bush welfare plan an- nounced in late February and incorporates TANF provisons adopted on May 2 by the House Ways and Means and Education and the Workforce Committees (in H.R. 4090 and H.R. 4092, respectively). It also includes provisions to continue abstinence education and transitional Medicaid that were approved earlier by the Energy and Commerce Committee. Further, it provides extra entitle- ment child care funding (Committee bills gave no increase) and additional discretionary funding. H.R. 4737 would raise work partici- pation requirements and increase required weekly work hours for most recipients. In response to arguments that stiffer work rules would raise child care needs, the Republican leadership added more child care funds to the final bill: over 5 years an increase of $1 billion in appropriations for mandatory funding and an increase of $1 billion in authorized discre- tionary funding. For a comparison showing how the House-passed bill and other pending bills would change the program of Temporary...
