Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1908 edition. Excerpt: .Facilities for the Study of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Obstetrics. Students. Qualified Practitioners. Gynaecology. Students. For The Medical Students Of London.--Each Medical School provides teaching in Obstetrics in the following manner: --(1) a systematic course of Lectures, Clinical Lectures, and Tutorial Classes, with (2) practical instruction in the extern Maternity Charity attached to the hospital. None of the Schools has, at present, Maternity wards adequate to the clinical teaching of Midwifery, but all have some beds devoted to special Obstetric cases. Of the special Lying-in Hospitals, Queen Charlotte s (for both men and women students) and the City of London have organised courses of practical instruction for students, who reside for a month in the hospital, and have the advantage of receiving their instruction side by side with midwives and monthly nurses; while at the Clapham Maternity Hospital women students can attend cases and receive instruction. For Qualified Practitioners desirous of extra or post-graduate study, special facilities are afforded. They may attend the practice at Queen Charlotte s Hospital (with 70 beds), usually for a month, and can reside, during the course, in the hospital. In addition to their routine work, they assist at the operations. Queen Charlotte s Hospital possesses a well-equipped pathological laboratory, in which research work can be carried out. Similar arrangements are being made both at the General Lying-in Hospital (36 beds) and the City of London Lying-in Hospital (50 beds), for qualified men; while the Clapham Maternity Hospital offers instruction...
